

Survey Question:
“Are you expecting your partner's adjustment to being a parent of a new baby to be:”
compared with
“Would you say that your partner's adjustment to being a parent of a new baby was:”

Information about the survey:

- Nearly 6 in 10 women say that their partner adjusts well to becoming a new parent with only 4% indicating that their partners found it ‘Very Difficult’. As for mums adjusting to a new baby and family life (see SNo 63), women expect the adjustment for themselves and their partners to be harder than they actually report that it is.
